CSL, Indonesian smartcard manufacturer, joins SIMalliance

24th October 2012

SIMalliance, London, October 24th, 2012: SIMalliance, the Secure Element architects for today's generation, announces another important milestone as Indonesia's Cipta Srigati Lestari (CSL) joins the group.

One of the largest smartcard manufacturers in South East Asia, CSL has grown rapidly since it began card production back in 2008. Today, the company ships over 270 million cards throughout the region.

CSL's membership of the SIMalliance is further evidence of the increasing drive towards global security standardization and interoperability for today's generation of business and consumer applications.

SIMalliance's Chairman of the Board, Frédéric Vasnier, commented: "In welcoming CSL, we are welcoming a partner with expertise within the smartcard arena. CSL's scale and regional expertise will make the business a valuable contributor to SIMalliance's activities. I'm looking forward to working closely together."

Mr. Aditya Arya Prawisnara, CEO at CSL said: "We're excited to work with our new partners within the SIMalliance to solve global mobile security and identity challenges, and to extend the opportunities for an ever greater number of innovative applications based on the Secure Element. Becoming part of the Alliance was a key strategic decision for CSL, and we look forward to supporting the activities of the working groups, as well as bringing our own experience to bear across the SIMalliance's many programmes and initiatives,"
